DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 21, 22, 40, 43, 44, 45, 47, 48, 49, 51, and 52, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a consumable and method of making a consumable including first and second identifiers.
- II. Claims 23 and 24, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a method of operating a printing apparatus by reading an identifier from a consumable.
- III. Claims 25-30 and 36, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a reader, storage medium and processor.
- IV. Claims 25, 31 and 32, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a reader, storage medium and processor.
- V. Claims 25, 33, and 36, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a supply of an image receiving substrate.
- VI. Claims 25, 31, 34, and 36, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a monitor and end of substrate detector.
- VII. Claims 25, 35, 36, and 39, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a supply of thermal transfer material.
- VIII. Claims 36, and 37, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a cassette.

- IX. Claims 36 and 38, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including a spool.
- X. Claims 41 and 42, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a consumable comprising a first identifier programmed and a second identifier inserted to the first.
- XI. Claims 41, 46 and 50, classified in Class 400, Subclass 191 directed to a printing apparatus including the first and second identifiers are carried on the same tag.

Inventions I through XI are directed to related products. The related inventions are distinct if: (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect as a result of mutually exclusive features; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect as a result of mutually exclusive features (as evidenced by the distinct features recited in the dependent claims). Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Claim 25 link(s) inventions III through VII, claim 36 link(s) inventions VII through IX, and claim 41 link(s) inventions X and XI. The restriction requirement among the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claims 25, 36 and 41. Upon the indication of allowability of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be rejoined and fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104 Claims that require all the limitations of an allowable linking claim will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, the allowable linking claim, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
